

Foreign News.

EUROPEAN. — Versailles, October 16th, via London.—The report of the French success, before Paris, is now confirmed. The artillerists have captured the fortifications of Mézières, and the courage of the people. The Prussians hold the fortresses they occupied on the 11th, and are still holding the same fortresses they occupied on the 1st. Two small skirmishes between the outposts on Tuesday and Wednesday, the only encounter that have occurred during the week.

FRANCE. — Oct. 15th.—(Associated Press Cable).—It is the purpose of the Government to form an army for offensive purposes, which, when it leaves out of the city, shall be thoroughly equipped and supported by a sufficient corps of artillery.

Among the letters found in the batteries is one written to the Emperor by the Empress. While she was there, she warned him against proceeding with some new schemes of ambition, and concluded with these words: "Believe me, you cannot make sufficiently two empires in one life."

The world would give the following account of the attack:

"The attack was led by the Garde Mobile, who behaved with valor and steadiness, and the Germans after a brief resistance, broke everywhere in confusion, abandoning their artillery and teams. A considerable force, which retreated in better order, as far as Epineuil, nearly nine miles to the south of Paris, was held up by the Guards of Brittany and the Sables, attempting to make a stand at the Chateau of that place; they were assaulted finally, and after brief engagement, were compelled to surrender at discretion. The French captured quite a number of prisoners, cannon, flags, ambulances, and commissaries teams.

"There are now no Prussian siege works opened within four miles of the Enciente of the walls of Paris."

A general has arrived at Versailles from England with $25,000 sterling, valued that country for the German hospital fund. The amount will be turned over to the German authorities immediately.

St. Cloud is a total ruin. The pictures and tapestry have been destroyed by the fire from the Paris forts.

LONDON. — October 16th.—[Special to the Times].—It is reported that General Barnard will be able to get the Americans remaining in Paris out. This will be the limit of the success of his efforts, and the sole result of his labors.

LONDON. — October 16th.—The following particulars of the battle of Bagneux are just received:

At nine o'clock in the morning the French opened a heavy artillery fire, which was vigorously returned by the Prussians. The French then advanced on the double quick, the Garde Mobile leading. A desperate battle ensued. The Prussians' position was gained at the point of the bayonet. The Germans were unable to withstand the savage assault against them. They resorted to several stratagems, but failed in all, and were at length dispersed.

The Prussians entered Bagneux, where the Prussians had erected barricades. These were soon carried without slight loss. At this time heavy guns of Prussia were seen on the plateau, and as the French were now exposed to a severe fire of artillery from the forts in the neighborhood, they fell back unscathed.

The object of the prorogation was effected in every particular. The Prussians lost 300 killed and 100 captured in the engagement.

LONDON. — October 16th.—[World's Special].—The Queen has been advised by the Representatives from the French Court to take an active part in pressing her Ministers to make an effort at securing a treaty of peace between France and Germany. The Crown Princess of Prussia has addressed a letter to her mother on the subject of the war, which makes the Queen to insist on an interview with Earl Granville and Gladstone on Saturday, upon the action being taken.

The Prussian Minister at Brussels sent a despatch yesterday to Count Bertrand, which led him to request an interview, today, with the English Foreign Minister, similar requests were addressed to Granville by the Representatives of France, Austria, Holland, Belgium, and Holland; in response to those calls, Granville, today, saw all the Foreign Ministers concerned. It is understood to-night that the French and Spanish Ministers have united in protesting against any change in existing territorial arrangements of France, Holland, and Belgium.

On Sunday, a fresh attack was made on the German positions on the south of Paris, which were not carried on the preceding day. The Bavarians, who had been engaged, Cleves, and other regiments, were taken prisoner. The morning of the 15th, the National and Guards Division of the Côte d'Or. The Bavarians fought stoutly, and the action lasted till 10 p.m. in the afternoon, but they were completely routed.

The French are actively throwing up earthworks, and mounting rifle-pits in advance of Forts 1777 and 1778.

A series of encounters occurred on Sunday on the way to Rouen. The Prussian column marching up the right bank of the Seine, approached La Ferte au Bois. The town was occupied by the Ninety-Fourth regiment, which, on the approach of the enemy, crossed the river, blew up the bridge, and fell back in disorder. The Prussians moved up the river to Conches, where they were furiously attacked by the French-Boers, and finally compelled to retreat to the south of the Seine.

The Catholique hierarchy of Great Britain have issued a protest against the action of the Italian Government in occupying the Papal territory. They call upon all good Catholics to form pious Unions to protest against the treatment of the Pope, and to prepare documents on the subject which may be made the basis of an appeal to the British Parliament.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—The Fall Mall Guards, referring to the appointment of Marton, says: "A thoroughly incompetent person is selected to represent the United States in England, and is instructed first to bully, and next to threaten war. This incompetent person probably prefers a diplomatic skirmish with the Dignitaries to war with the capital. Their opinions had not affected."

The Catholic hierarchy of Great Britain have issued a protest against the action of the Italian Government in occupying the Papal territory. They call upon all good Catholics to form pious Unions to protest against the treatment of the Pope, and to prepare documents on the subject which may be made the basis of an appeal to the British Parliament.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—A violent storm passed over the sea of around Paris last night.

The Department of Supplies has been declared in a state of siege, and energetic preparations are being made at Amiens, the capital, for defense.

A force of 20,000 Prussians, which was advancing on the city, has returned.

Tours, Oct. 16th.—Controversy rumors are flying around concerning the movements of the British army on the Lire, but the general impression is that the Prussians are no longer coming this way, and that a large force of the enemy is marching on Normandy, where there are fewer troops to oppose them.

The French army of the Loire is camped in the forest of Chateauneuf, the officers are extremely rigorous in giving discipline, and a number of soldiers have been shot for disobedience of orders. The men are now in fine condition and spirits.

Versailles, Oct. 16th.—All last night the Parisians kept up a steady fire on Prussian outposts. The latter are well protected and suffered no losses.

On the 15th, German detachment under Mont Didier, capturing four officers and 175 mobile Guards.

The Prussian commandant of Stettin was forced to return from the town on the 11th, by a sortie from Montdidier.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—The Special correspondent of the Tribune before Metz, telegraphs to-day that the negotiations for the surrender of Metz failed, and the garrison has returned to the besieged town. Gen. Bazaine proposed to surrender all of his own army on the same terms as the surrender at Sedan, except that the regular garrison of Metz should continue to hold the fortress, thus releasing at least half the investing army.

General Berthold, Prussian Minister, has not been recalled from England.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—A Prussian attack on Bourges is probable as that city has a large arsenal and several fortresses.

It is believed that a formal summons to surrender will precede the beginning of hostilities.

BORDEAUX. — Oct. 16th.—Diplomats from Paris to Tours, who landed this morning in a balloon, gave further particulars of Prussian operations in Paris. The Prussians, in force, on the eve of the 15th, attacked the Belvédère de l'Asnière, and the fort of Issy, and were repulsed. With reinforced forces they renewed the attack next morning, but after three hours' combat were again repulsed. Dubois says in all the recent conflicts around Paris, the French have had the best of it.

The activity of the citizens was prodigious. Paris was making heavy fire contributions per week, two millions of cartridges daily, and cannon and munitions in proportion.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—The agents of the American Lines at Glasgow have received confirmation of the loss of their steamer, the Cambria, on Wednesday night.

According to Glasgow news, official statements give £10,000 as the value of the Cambria, £10,000 for the most part regular troops, with Bassingbourn

Metz and Thionville, and 170,000 regular troops out of Paris and Metz. Besides these the Government has distributed arms to 822,000 men throughout the provinces.

COPENHAGEN. — Oct. 16th.—The Times publishes the following despatch this morning:

"LONDON, Oct. 16th.—A report from Luxembourg that Bezaine raised the siege of Thionville on the 14th, after an engagement lasting four hours, in which nearly the whole investing force of 30,000 was captured." On the 15th he returned to Metz with an immense amount of supplies and munitions stores, and 16,000 men accumulated in this fortress. Meanwhile the Prussians, who had fallen back to Pont-a-Mousson, were the victors of the 11th, and won the line around so that it extended from Pont-a-Mousson to Harry and Fougasse.

Among the letters found in the batteries is one written to the Emperor by the Empress. She warned him against proceeding with some new schemes of ambition, and concluded with these words: "Believe me, you cannot make sufficiently two empires in one life."

The world would give the following account of the attack:

"The attack was led by the Garde Mobile, who behaved with valor and steadiness, and the Germans after a brief resistance, broke everywhere in confusion, abandoning their artillery and teams. A considerable force, which retreated in better order, as far as Epineuil, nearly nine miles to the south of Paris, was held up by the Guards of Brittany and the Sables, attempting to make a stand at the Chateau of that place; they were assaulted finally, and after brief engagement, were compelled to surrender at discretion. The French captured quite a number of prisoners, cannon, flags, ambulances, and commissaries teams.

"There are now no Prussian siege works opened within four miles of the Enciente of the walls of Paris."

A general has arrived at Versailles from England with $25,000 sterling, valued that country for the German hospital fund. The amount will be turned over to the German authorities immediately.

St. Cloud is a total ruin. The pictures and tapestry have been destroyed by the fire from the Paris forts.

LONDON. — October 16th.—[Special to the Times].—It is reported that General Barnard will be able to get the Americans remaining in Paris out. This will be the limit of the success of his efforts, and the sole result of his labors.

LONDON. — October 16th.—The following particulars of the battle of Bagneux are just received:

At nine o'clock in the morning the French opened a heavy artillery fire, which was vigorously returned by the Prussians. The French then advanced on the double quick, the Garde Mobile leading. A desperate battle ensued. The Prussians' position was gained at the point of the bayonet. The Germans were unable to withstand the savage assault against them. They resorted to several stratagems, but failed in all, and were at length dispersed.

The Prussians entered Bagneux, where the Prussians had erected barricades. These were soon carried without slight loss. At this time heavy guns of Prussia were seen on the plateau, and as the French were now exposed to a severe fire of artillery from the forts in the neighborhood, they fell back unscathed.

The object of the prorogation was effected in every particular. The Prussians lost 300 killed and 100 captured in the engagement.

LONDON. — October 16th.—[World's Special].—The Queen has been advised by the Representatives from the French Court to take an active part in pressing her Ministers to make an effort at securing a treaty of peace between France and Germany. The Crown Princess of Prussia has addressed a letter to her mother on the subject of the war, which makes the Queen to insist on an interview with Earl Granville and Gladstone on Saturday, upon the action being taken.

The Prussian Minister at Brussels sent a despatch yesterday to Count Bertrand, which led him to request an interview, today, with the English Foreign Minister, similar requests were addressed to Granville by the Representatives of France, Austria, Holland, Belgium, and Holland; in response to those calls, Granville, today, saw all the Foreign Ministers concerned. It is understood to-night that the French and Spanish Ministers have united in protesting against any change in existing territorial arrangements of France, Holland, and Belgium.

On Sunday, a fresh attack was made on the German positions on the south of Paris, which were not carried on the preceding day. The Bavarians, who had been engaged, Cleves, and other regiments, were taken prisoner. The morning of the 15th, the National and Guards Division of the Côte d'Or. The Bavarians fought stoutly, and the action lasted till 10 p.m. in the afternoon, but they were completely routed.

The French are actively throwing up earthworks, and mounting rifle-pits in advance of Forts 1777 and 1778.

A series of encounters occurred on Sunday on the way to Rouen. The Prussian column marching up the right bank of the Seine, approached La Ferte au Bois. The town was occupied by the Ninety-Fourth regiment, which, on the approach of the enemy, crossed the river, blew up the bridge, and fell back in disorder. The Prussians moved up the river to Conches, where they were furiously attacked by the French-Boers, and finally compelled to retreat to the south of the Seine.

The Catholique hierarchy of Great Britain have issued a protest against the action of the Italian Government in occupying the Papal territory. They call upon all good Catholics to form pious Unions to protest against the treatment of the Pope, and to prepare documents on the subject which may be made the basis of an appeal to the British Parliament.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—The Fall Mall Guards, referring to the appointment of Marton, says: "A thoroughly incompetent person is selected to represent the United States in England, and is instructed first to bully, and next to threaten war. This incompetent person probably prefers a diplomatic skirmish with the Dignitaries to war with the capital. Their opinions had not affected."

The Catholic hierarchy of Great Britain have issued a protest against the action of the Italian Government in occupying the Papal territory. They call upon all good Catholics to form pious Unions to protest against the treatment of the Pope, and to prepare documents on the subject which may be made the basis of an appeal to the British Parliament.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—A violent storm passed over the sea of around Paris last night.

The Department of Supplies has been declared in a state of siege, and energetic preparations are being made at Amiens, the capital, for defense.

A force of 20,000 Prussians, which was advancing on the city, has returned.

Tours, Oct. 16th.—Controversy rumors are flying around concerning the movements of the British army on the Lire, but the general impression is that the Prussians are no longer coming this way, and that a large force of the enemy is marching on Normandy, where there are fewer troops to oppose them.

The French army of the Loire is camped in the forest of Chateauneuf, the officers are extremely rigorous in giving discipline, and a number of soldiers have been shot for disobedience of orders. The men are now in fine condition and spirits.

Versailles, Oct. 16th.—All last night the Parisians kept up a steady fire on Prussian outposts. The latter are well protected and suffered no losses.

On the 15th, German detachment under Mont Didier, capturing four officers and 175 mobile Guards.

The Prussian commandant of Stettin was forced to return from the town on the 11th, by a sortie from Montdidier.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—The Special correspondent of the Tribune before Metz, telegraphs to-day that the negotiations for the surrender of Metz failed, and the garrison has returned to the besieged town. Gen. Bazaine proposed to surrender all of his own army on the same terms as the surrender at Sedan, except that the regular garrison of Metz should continue to hold the fortress, thus releasing at least half the investing army.

General Berthold, Prussian Minister, has not been recalled from England.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—A Prussian attack on Bourges is probable as that city has a large arsenal and several fortresses.

It is believed that a formal summons to surrender will precede the beginning of hostilities.

BORDEAUX. — Oct. 16th.—Diplomats from Paris to Tours, who landed this morning in a balloon, gave further particulars of Prussian operations in Paris. The Prussians, in force, on the eve of the 15th, attacked the Belvédère de l'Asnière, and the fort of Issy, and were repulsed. With reinforced forces they renewed the attack next morning, but after three hours' combat were again repulsed. Dubois says in all the recent conflicts around Paris, the French have had the best of it.

The activity of the citizens was prodigious. Paris was making heavy fire contributions per week, two millions of cartridges daily, and cannon and munitions in proportion.

LONDON. — Oct. 16th.—The agents of the American Lines at Glasgow have received confirmation of the loss of their steamer, the Cambria, on Wednesday night.

According to Glasgow news, official statements give £10,000 as the value of the Cambria, £10,000 for the most part regular troops, with Bassingbourn

Metz and Thionville, and 170,000 regular troops out of Paris and Metz. Besides these the Government has distributed arms to 822,000 men throughout the provinces.

COPENHAGEN. — Oct. 16th.—A report from Luxembourg that Bezaine raised the siege of Thionville on the 14th, after an engagement lasting four hours, in which nearly the whole investing force of 30,000 was captured." On the 15th he returned to Metz with an immense amount of supplies and munitions stores, and 16,000 men accumulated in this fortress. Meanwhile the Prussians, who had fallen back to Pont-a-Mousson, were the victors of the 11th, and won the line around so that it extended from Pont-a-Mousson to Harry and Fougasse.

Among the letters found in the batteries is one written to the Emperor by the Empress. She warned him against proceeding with some new schemes of ambition, and concluded with these words: "Believe me, you cannot make sufficiently two empires in one life."

The world would give the following account of the attack:

"The attack was led by the Garde Mobile, who behaved with valor and steadiness, and the Germans after a brief resistance, broke everywhere in confusion, abandoning their artillery and teams. A considerable force, which retreated in better order, as far as Epineuil, nearly nine miles to the south of Paris, was held up by the Guards of Brittany and the Sables, attempting to make a stand at the Chateau of that place; they were assaulted finally, and after brief engagement, were compelled to surrender at discretion. The French captured quite a number of prisoners, cannon, flags, ambulances, and commissaries teams.

"There are now no Prussian siege works opened within four miles of the Enciente of the walls of Paris."

A general has arrived at Versailles from England with $25,000 sterling, valued that country for the German hospital fund. The amount will be turned over to the German authorities immediately.

St. Cloud is a total ruin. The pictures and tapestry have been destroyed by the fire from the Paris forts.

LONDON. — October 16th.—[Special to the Times].—It is reported that General Barnard will be able to get the Americans remaining in Paris out. This will be the limit of the success of his efforts, and the sole result of his labors.

LONDON. — October 16th.—The following particulars of the battle of Bagneux are just received:

At nine o'clock in the morning the French opened a heavy artillery fire, which was vigorously returned by the Prussians. The French then advanced on the double quick, the Garde Mobile leading. A desperate battle ensued. The Prussians' position was gained at the point of the bayonet. The Germans were unable to withstand the savage assault against them. They resorted to several stratagems, but failed in all, and were at length